Walking the Camino

Every year, around half a million people of all faiths and ages walk the Camino de Santiago; the legendary pilgrimage route that dates back to the Middle Ages and which weaves its way through, the villages, cities, and breathtaking landscapes of the Iberian Peninsular. Bill Walker has been walking the Camino since 2013. He continues to return each year and in 2025, intends to mark his 70th birthday by walking with friends and family from Santiago de Compostela to Finisterre and the Costa da Morte. In this talk, he tells of his experiences, the history of the Camino, and tries to explain what draws him back year after year.
